

Roses are considered the world's best-known and most popular ornamental plant. Their combination of elegance, fragrance, beauty, and charm creates an irresistible combination.

Roses require 6-10 hours of sun each day, along with fertile, well-drained soil and a site protected from winter winds. Dig a deep, wide hole, replace with good topsoil and organic matter. Roses look best when massed, but allow ample room for each plant. Mulch in summer. Fertilize with rose food in spring and in July. Apply fungicide when needed.

In our area, some types of roses require winter protection. Apply a heavy mulch of fir boughs or straw at the base, and erect a burlap screen for those planted in exposed sites. Lay climber-canecan down before covering. Culture sheets are available.

All Roses are in 2, 2½, or 3 Gallon Containers.

ANTIQUE & SPECIES ROSES

Trouble-free and very hardy, these shrub roses date back to ancient times. Dates listed are when first documented.

Alba's past is lost to us, but not their white and pale pink, extremely fragrant blooms. The plants are very tall and upright.

Bourbon roses date back to a hybrid cross on the Isle de Bourbon in 1817. These are excellent shrubs and climbers.

Damasks were cultivated in monasteries for medicinal purposes, which aided their survival to the present. The flowers are borne in very tight clusters of 3 to 5.

Chinensis roses existed in the early Chinese dynasties; they could have been cultivated as early as 3000BC. The native plant has become extinct, and only survives in hybrids. These are recurrent bloomers with the unusual feature of darkening with age.

Gallica roses were developed by the Romans, who planted them throughout Europe. They are tidy, upright shrubs. The flowers are fragrant and are used in potpourri.

Moss roses, (R. x centifolia muscosa), popular in Victorian times, have bristly "whiskers", resembling moss, covering the flower stems and calyx. The fully double blooms are intensely fragrant.

Perpetual roses emerged in the 1830's. Throughout Queen Victoria's reign they led the field in exhibitions. The plants generally sport very large blooms.

Pimpinellifolia (syn. spinosissima) are easily grown, not being fussy about soil. Hybrids of the wild 'Scots Rose' were first introduced by Dickson & Brown, a nursery in Perth, Scotland, in the early 1800's.

Pruning: Old roses should be pruned lightly. Prune one-time bloomers after flowering and repeat bloomers in early spring.

CLIMBERS AND RAMBLERS

Outstanding for the porch, arbor, fence, trellis, or wall. Ramblers have more flexible canes than climbers. The canes do not actually climb, but must be attached to the structure. Some roses are known as pillar roses and can stand by themselves, but should be supported to prevent storm damage. (Some Antique, Floribunda, Modern, Rugosa, and David Austin Roses are also climbers.)

Pruning: Leave newly planted climbers alone for two seasons while they produce enough new canes for abundant blooms. Prune after they have finished flowering. If there are enough canes, remove 1/3 and shorten remaining canes by 2/3.

RUGOSA

EASY. We are very pleased to offer one of Maine's largest and finest selections of Rugosa Roses. Our varieties have been selected for their high American Rose Society ratings. These are the hardiest of the shrub roses. Many gardeners have found these plants to be indispensable. The large hips, rich in vitamin C, can be used for culinary purposes. The foliage turns red and yellow in the autumn. Useful in the seashore garden and for erosion control. Excellent plants as hedges, screens, garden accents, foundation plantings, and in mass displays. Rugosas will tolerate some shade. Does not need chemical sprays. Their disease resistance, vigor, and attractive foliage are a combination hard to beat. Zone 2-7.

Pruning: The new canes produced from the base of the plant each year produce the next year's flowers. Allow your Rugosa to grow for three years without pruning, then remove one-third of the old wood. This should be done early in the spring or late in the fall after leaf drop.

If you are new to gardening, make some of these plants your first investment. You will not be disappointed.

HYBRID TEA & GRANDIFLORA

Queen of the cut flowers! The most popular of all roses. Elegant, long-stemmed flowers bloom all season. Not extremely hardy without protection in our area, but their beauty justifies their use. Pruning: Hybrid Teas flower on new growth. They must be severely pruned, at the beginning of the growing season, to promote strong, new canes that will produce large flowers, and a good rebloom. Prune down to 10-12" above the ground. As long as the bud union is not dead, new growth will occur. A hybrid tea that is not pruned will send up new, quickly flowering growth that will be too weak to produce large flowers. Apply deep mulch in the fall. Ask for our culture sheet..
